

Novena in Honor of the Most Miraculous Child of Atocha
Santo Niño de Atocha

Novena in Honor of the Most Miraculous Child of Atocha Santo Niño de Atocha

Holy Child of Atocha, Jesus
Venerated in the Sanctuary of Plateros, Fresnillo, Zacatecas, Mexico

Portrayed like a small Spanish pilgrim, the image of the baby Jesus, known as the Santo Niño de Atocha, wears a long dress with a lace that has a wide lace collar and cuffs with flops. In his cloak is the traditional image of a pilgrim, a cockle shell, and he holds a small basket with his left hand, and a vessel of water is held by a cane in his right hand. The little holy boy wears sandals buckled with silver buckles, and a large, flexible hat with a feather. Although he is known as a pilgrim, he is usually shown sitting in a small chair.

Incomparable are the blessings that the Holy Child of Atocha daily bestows, and we ought to rely on him with faith and trust from the heart so that he will kindly hear our request in an instant, the day and hour in which we invoke him. Therefore it will be very profitable that on the first and last days of this prayer, we are in the necessary disposition to attain what we request, and the rest of the days we should perform some works of charity, primarily on behalf of poor children who lack anything to live on due to their parents' poverty. We should also pray and sacrifice for the poor souls in Purgatory, or visit the sick, so that in this manner we might quickly receive our share from the Holy Child.

This novena can be prayed at any time, for we ought always turn to the sacred Child when we find ourselves surrounded by difficulties or afflictions. With him on our side we lack nothing, and so we will obtain whatever we wish from our heart.

THE FOLLOWING PRAYERS ARE SAID EVERY DAY.

Act of Contrition

O most handsome Child of Atocha! The greatest simplicity of infinite love, adored Child of my heart, constant fountain of miracles, abundance of prodigies, wellspring of enlightenment, and Father of all pity and mercy! O most precious Child of Atocha, at your feet, my Lord, this thankless and vile sinner humbly kneels, who desires at the cost of his tears to apologize to you, beseeching pardon for his sins, with your most holy Mother interceding as an advocate. With such certainty he comes with confidence, for you are the fathomless ocean of goodness; to you, my Beloved, to you I sigh, unfortunate, poor, and shame-stricken soul, I come before your divine Presence. I speak to you from the core of my soul that I regret having offended you. O adorable Child of Atocha, being who you are, I ask you to grant me the contrition you gave Dismas<sup>1</sup>, the tears of Simon Peter<sup>2</sup>, the sweet utterances of Augustine<sup>3</sup>, for so to apologize to you is my heart's desire. No, little Child, do not cut the thread of my unfortunate life; grant me time to do penance and to weep over my faults, as you granted to Saint Mary Magdalen<sup>4</sup>, and similarly I beg you the endurance of Saint Peter of Alcántara<sup>5</sup>, to be as pleasing to your divine eyes, and power to do penance. Remove the shackles that hold me bound, which can be released by the hands of your most Holy Mother. O most merciful Child, pardon me for having offended you, and I commit myself not to offend you anymore, for I ask you by your most holy Mother, Saint Mary of Atocha, by her intact purity, for the sorrow that she had you circumcised, and for that virginal milk with which you suckled from her most pure breasts. Most loving Child of Atocha, I hope in you, I rely on you, and in you I believe I will achieve my salvation, and by means of this novena I humbly ask you and truly believe that I will never go forth dejected without that which you know I need. I hope that all my afflictions, my labors, my needs, my sufferings, my depressions, you will turn into delights, giving for my tribulations, joys, for my incarcerations, freedom, since you are my Father and all of my God. Help me, strengthen me, aid me, defend me, favor me in the hour of my death, appear to me with the bright squadron of angels, receiving my soul in your arms so as to be at rest in you and rejoice in the heavenly enjoyments in your delightful company unto life everlasting. Amen.

Prayer to Holy Mother Mary of Atocha

Immaculate Mother of God Most Holy, Mother of Atocha, worthy Tabernacle of the Holy Spirit, Gateway to the Kingdom of Heaven, Divine Dawn, for whom after God every rational being on earth lives, turn toward me your most beautiful eyes, enlighten this darkened and wretched soul. Look on it, Mother of Mercy, so worn and moth-eaten with the desires of my passions; take pity, Lady, on the soul's ruin. Obtain from your most holy Son to renew it, cleanse it, and restore it to its original grace. Grant me what I ask on this day, and request it for me. Illumine my soul so that I myself might know and see the errors into which I have fallen while wandering from the sheepfold and the flock of your divine grace, and let me not return to stumble into the deceits and delights of the world. Give me power not to fall once again in the net of the devil, let me not fail to see through the failures of the flesh. If, most loving Mother, I am certain that up to now no one has implored your protection and has been left forsaken, with equal certitude I humble myself to implore your divine help, and hope that you will be my intercessor, together with all those joined and gathered who continue to implore from your divine Child his help in difficulties, that your most holy Son might grant mercy and grace, kind Lady, acceding to our requests for success in our needs both spiritual and temporal. So we trust from the Holy Child of Atocha, your beloved Son, that if this favor we implore is good for us and is within his pleasure, he will grant it to us for his honor and glory, and if it is not what his most holy will might allow, grant us a perfect resignation in this life so that, by serving and bearing with patience our trials and afflictions, we may obtain a happy death. Amen.

Three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be.

FIRST DAY

First Appeal

Little Child of Atocha, prodigious little Child,
divine little Child,
loving little Child,
kneeling we ask from you

all-powerful One:
that my afflictions
return to me as joy
for you are my Father,
my delight and my tranquility.

First Miracle

In the month of February of the year 1829 Maxima Esparza was put in jail in the village of Encarnacion, in the days when a celebration is held in honor of saint Mary of the Candlemas<sup>6</sup>, and she not having someone who spoke on her behalf, stayed until August of the same year in jail; and later having been exiled as a sanction, she walked towards the Real of Catorce, where she was again put through the same predicament, when she stayed in jail for three months, and she was sanctioned in the same manner as before. So she started on her way to Saltillo<sup>7</sup>, where, because of her bad manners, she again fell for the third time, and so was imprisoned from April until September. From there she was released, under the same sanction, and at this point she decided to head towards Durango, where she was put again in jail, where she stayed for one year.

After looking and not finding anybody that would help her and not finding any way out, she prayed with faith in her heart to the sacred Child of Atocha, who kindly listened to her and took her out of that captivity. In all the time that she had lived there, there was nobody that would defend her until the Holy Child of Atocha, dressed as a young prince, visited her in that prison, and gave her some bread in the name of his mother, saying to her that same afternoon she would be taken in front of the judge who would release her from custody, and this was very surprising to her and to the other many inmates as well as the staff. When the time arrived that the Child had told her she would be freed, she was released under the condition of leaving on her honor. The Child directed her to follow him without losing sight of him, and he took a straight route towards Fresnillo<sup>8</sup>. When she was close to a lagoon, night came upon her and she lost her spiritual guide who was taking her home, but since he had told her that his mother was Saint Mary of Atocha, and his name was Manuel de Atocha<sup>9</sup>, she kept on walking all night, and when the sun rose she saw herself reaching Fresnillo.

Since everyone there knew about the miracles the Child had already performed for other persons, they took her to the priest's house, and she told the priest what had happened since her last time in prison, and the priest after having made sure of her story, took her directly to the sanctuary. When the woman, Maxima, saw the beautiful shrine, she knelt and cried to thank him for this prodigy and to express her utter faith for the miracle she had experienced, and she told all the faithful there in the Plateros Sanctuary the wonders the sacred Child had done for her. She displayed her ex-voto<sup>10</sup> painting in the Sactuary of Plateros, and in that way all persons could benefit from this grace just by praying to the Holy Child of Atocha<sup>11</sup>.

First Prayer

Most gracious Child of Atocha, Sovereign Ark of the Supreme Sanctuary<sup>12</sup>, I both salute and praise you on this first day, and I offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys and a Glory Be, adorned with the first spontaneous utterance, remembering the first moment when Most Holy Mary, your beloved Mother, received the news from Archangel Saint Gabriel, and for the joy that she received when he said to her, "May God save you, Mary; you are filled with grace; the Lord is with you." From that bridal chamber you went out to be the help of troubled persons, consolation when visiting the imprisoned, and the sole remedy of the dispossessed. And for that first journey when you hid in the above-mentioned chamber from Nazareth to Mount Tabor<sup>13</sup>, where after mature age you worked the miracle of your Transfiguration and revealed to your disciples your glory: I beg you, most loving Child of Atocha, grant me what I seek in this novena, a happy end to my request. I ask through the intercession of the choir of holy angels, for to those sovereign spirits you see to it that they might protect humans. I hope for your favor so that I will not leave with a refusal, but instead obtain a perpetual friendship and achieve a happy death, to enjoy you among the delights of your glory.

SECOND DAY

Second Appeal

Holy Child of Atocha, Son of Mary,
bright Torch,
our refuge and guide,
accept my plea

on this day,
for you can do everything,
merciful Majesty,
Enchantment of the universe,
Happiness of the world!

Second Miracle

In the year 1834, in the month of May, 8th day, it happened to Don Jose Maria Delgado, cashier of a store in the city of Fresnillo, that when he was attending to the business of the store, at night time and when it was time to close the store, some bad men, with weapons, came into the store, pretending they were going to buy some drinks, common to that type of establishment, and seeing he was alone, and since at the time they were drunk, they started to bad mouth him with offensive words. Suddenly one of them stabbed him, cutting him from side to side. Since they could not perpetrate the robbery, they left the store, leaving said Don Jose Maria fainting and close to his death. When he found himself totally wounded and close to his death, he prayed with all his heart to the Holy Child of Atocha, who indeed heard him. Within forty eight hours this gentleman felt the miracle of the wonder of the Holy Child of Atocha as he showed his mercy and he was completely healed in a few days. In gratitude for this benefit, his thanks are written in the sanctuary, to attest to this miracle, giving thanks to the Holy Child and to his Merciful Mother Mary, for the miracle they had just given him.

Second Prayer

Most handsome Child of Atocha, handsome Rainbow of clemency, generous and most pure Child, I salute you and praise you on this second day and offer these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be, adorning them with the second spontaneous poem in memory of that second journey made in the company of those holy pilgrims, your beloved parents, while you lay hidden in that virginal ark, from Mount Tabor to the city of Naim<sup>14</sup>. After having suffered and experienced such labors and rains from heaven, cold winds, the hardships of travel along those bitter and dangerous trails, the barrenness of those fields, fatiguing that just and chaste spouse of Mary, he sought shelter in the inns for his beloved spouse and they refused him, dismissing him with impudent and painful remarks. With sorrow he suffered during that night in a corner of an unsheltered portal by himself, weeping for the hardness of those hearts. For those afflictions that both spouses suffered, I beg you, little Child of Atocha, that you grant a happy outcome and result for my request, through the intercession of the choir of the archangels, for those divine spirits have been charged with most important tasks for your glory. I hope through the intercession of the patriarchs and prophets not to remain ashamed and confounded without obtaining the favor that I ask, since we know clearly that whoever trusts in you is never forsaken. In that confidence, handsome Child, I believe that you will shower your mercies on me and will give me a happy outcome, until seeing you in the heavenly city, I praise you eternally in heaven.

THIRD DAY

Third Appeal

Although you are in chains at any given second you slip out of them and go to work a miracle.
He who is suffering

calls upon you for help,
and you will remove it.
Full of happiness,
they give you thanks
for life everlasting.

Third Miracle

In the year 1836, on March 1, it happened that Mariano Garcia was working in Barrientos, close to Proano in Fresnillo, and this being the entrance to the mine of Barrientos, it just happened that Mariano sustained an accident while in the mine, and he prayed with all his heart to the Holy Child of Atocha, and he suddenly was able to jump into a cart which was coming his way. Thus he saved himself from a certain death, and when his fellow workers saw him alive they were very surprised by this miracle that saved his life. When he found himself out of all danger, and as a sign of gratitude, he visited the shrine of the Holy Child of Atocha to show the prodigy and to show all people that they can call on the Holy Child of Atocha in case of necessity or danger.

Third Prayer

Sweetest Child of Atocha, divine Heaven of highest majesty, I greet and praise you on this third day, and I offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be, accompanied by the third spontaneous prayer, in memory of that third journey that you took in the virginal womb of the most chaste Mother from the city of Naim to the fields of Samaria <sup>15</sup>. After your adult age those ten lepers came to you there and begged you. For that journey of pains and afflictions that you suffered in traveling, seeing along those roads your beloved parents are rejected by casual passersby because of their great poverty, reverently I beg you, through the intercession of the third choir of angels, that you will compassionately care for my request, for the joy your beloved Mother Holy Mary of Atocha received when they intoned in the angelic chapel the “Gloria in Excelsis Deo,” <sup>16</sup> resounding with sweet harmony in delicate voice, giving thanks to you as the desired tender Child so loving to the human race. And for this may you grant me the reward of my entreaty because I choose as intercessors the choir of Principalities, who ordain the angels and archangels in enlightening, instructing, commanding, and caring for the health of humans. At the hour of my death may I echo the sweet song “Glory to God in the Highest,” so I might go to enjoy you forever.

FOURTH DAY

Fourth Appeal

A stream of wonders are you,	of the troubled,
beloved Child,	for whoever invokes you hear us with benevolence,	is never forsaken;
adorable little Child,	you respond immediately
you are the consolation	with love and gladness.

Fourth Miracle

In the year 1836, on July 27, while Jorge Garcia, a miner who was then in the Barriero Mine, signing up for work in the company with a loader, had the misfortune to fall down into part of the mine. His head and shoulder hit upon a rock, and then he stopped his fall with his left foot. That leg hurt the most, and seeing himself in such a predicament, he called out at that very moment three times to the Holy Child of Atocha, who favored him with his strong power, so that he did not die without the Sacrament of Extreme Unction, for as soon as he cried out, the rest of the workers came and pulled him out. Jorge Garcia did not receive any other injury except the above-mentioned injury to his leg, and the loader who was working with him also received an injury with a fractured skull. Because the minor Garcia saw such a precious miracle that the Holy Child worked at that moment, he dedicated his oil painting to certify that very remarkable miracle, giving many unspoken thanks in the fervor of his heart for the rescue the Holy Child had performed, miracles so great that it is hard to imagine the magnitude of said miracles.

Fourth Prayer

Most gracious Child of Atocha, most eminent circle of infinite mercy, I greet you and praise you on this fourth day and offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be. United with this fourth appeal, in memory of that fourth journey that you took to the well of Sichem<sup>17</sup> in the most precious bed of the most precious bosom and beloved womb of our beloved Mother, Holy Mary of Atocha. Like divine Solomon, when knowing that she drew close to your fortunate birth, she unfolded the little parcel of her trousseau to make her Child's clothing ready, and kneeling down she washed the little garments and diapers ready to wrap you like the rich treasure of the heavens. I beseech you, Child of Atocha, by means of these hardships that I recall to you, let me obtain from you what I desire. I believe I will receive it by the joy of your divine Lady when she touched her mother-of-pearl lips to your precious cheeks with the most tender endearments and loving speeches; she opened her arms to you like your most loving Mother and with burning desires in her heart fed your sacred humanity with the sweet milk of her breasts. I hope from you, divine Child, to pursue completely the fortunate outcome I desire. At the end of this novena, may I be worthy of your miracles for me, calming my difficulties and sorrows, granting me in this life both peace and repose, and at the end a happy death so as to go on to praise you forever and ever. Amen.

FIFTH DAY

Fifth Appeal

Relying on you
with faith and devotion,
on my knees I pray
that your protection
will never fail us.

By the intercession
of your beloved Mother
and on this occasion,
may I receive what I ask
in my request.

Fifth Miracle

In the year 1837, on November 6, while Maria Eleuteria Garcia was in her home, a man came upon her and stabbed her in the face and arms, and Maria Catalina Rivera, who was also with her there, in seeing so much pain, prayed to the Holy Child of Atocha, who in his all goodness saved her life. To demonstrate the singular miracle that the divine Child bestowed upon them, to thank and to appreciate this miracle, they went to the holy shrine of Atocha to pray in thankfulness for such a miracle, the same one that had saved her life.

After she was feeling in perfect health, she did not for one moment forget the miracle which not only saved her life but also permitted her to know and love the Holy Child of Atocha and his way to take care of the sick and needy at any time when anybody with faith and conviction would call upon this magnificent and all good Child, the Holy Child of Atocha.

Fifth Day Prayer

Eternal Child of Atocha, matchless and marvelous Child, I greet you and praise you on this fifth day, and I offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be. Enriched with this fifth appeal, in memory of that fifth journey that your beloved parents made from the well of Sichem as far as that little village called Necmas<sup>18</sup>. There they rested in a barely inhabitable sheepfold, though with happy bleatings the mountains receive their cheerful company, communicating happiness that they occupy them tonight, by that humility with which they retired among the pines in that inn of animals. For the everlasting love that you profess for your holy Mother, Saint Mary of Atocha, I am asking that you grant my petition. As you always listen to needy souls, as you have immense power, I pray from you the joy of attaining the happy result of my request. And so I introduce the merits of this difficult pilgrimage, accompanying them with the intercession of the heavenly choir of Virtues, who work endless miracles, properties of your supreme power. I trust that through such great intercessors you will hear the complaints that I utter on this day. And finally I believe I will not be sent away sad, for I am hopeful and even confident that whoever seeks you, finds, and that whoever calls you, you answer. Come, powerful Child, to our aid, come always to our defense, and grant us a happy death so as to come in company with the happy Necmas for heaven eternal. Amen.

SIXTH DAY

Sixth Appeal

Divine physician
are you by your power;
with precision
you relieve his sickness;

you grant him health
and he testifies.
Deal benignly
with my concerns.

Sixth Miracle

In the month of November, 1838, Albino Ibarra was gravely ill, with pains in his stomach, and he had been feeling this way for a long time. As he had not found any cure for this illness, he decided to call upon the Holy Child of Atocha, asking from him, to please heal him, with a lot of faith in his heart, to which, the Holy Child, seeing that what he was asking was indeed very true, and while the doctors could not find what was exactly wrong with him, the Holy Child of Atocha granted his request and healed him completely. By this miracle of his Holy Majesty, he was forever grateful and visited the shrine of the Holy Child of Atocha, where his story is told, and this shrine and this miracle has been seen and heard by a large group of faithful persons.

Sixth Day Prayer

Gracious Child of Atocha, you are smiling, enjoying yourself with your beloved Mother. I greet and praise you on this sixth day. I offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be, and I join them with this sixth appeal in memory of that sixth journey you made, residing in the most divine womb of your most holy Mother, Holy Mary of Atocha, even in some uninhabited spot. O Holy Mother, when he was twelve years of age you lost sight of your Son <sup>19</sup>, and you felt such sorrow in your heart after having suffered with such modest humility, such travails, climbing the mountains, walking on the deep drifts of snow with your most delicate feet, pushing through the heights, and suffering the cold winds, the rainy sky, and the ingratitude and bitterness of the season. I ask for everything that I remind you of, may your Son grant me the favor that I ask from you in this hour. Most Holy little Child, I add the intercession of all the Dominations who precede all the inferior spirits and ministers of your divine providence and subject themselves to your will forever. I remind you daily in this novena as I present my request, that I hope not to depart without gaining whatever I ask, and after the end of my life I hope to gain your grace so as to enjoy the heavenly paradise of your everlasting dwelling-place. Amen.

SEVENTH DAY

Seventh Appeal

The sick and imprisoned, Little Child,
you protect and assist,
with your great power.
And you do not abandon anyone in pain.

You give the imprisoned,
liberty and return,
and also to the sick.
Who, if not you, could do this?

Seventh Miracle

In the month of May, 1839, it happened that Jose Maria Diaz killed another man by stabbing him, and he was arrested by the authorities in Fresnillo, who, after investigating this incident, found probable cause for charging Diaz with murder, and without any appeal, the court sentenced him to twelve years in prison. When they informed Diaz of his sentence, in his heart he prayed to the Holy Child of Atocha, with a lot of faith in that he knew that the Holy Child of Atocha would listen to his prayers, and that through him he would obtain his liberty, and that he would be his lawyer, his prosecutor, and his judge, and that he would release him from prison. This indeed occurred as he spent but one year and three months in prison, and he was freed by the authorities. He then visited the Holy Shrine of Atocha to thank personally the Child for what he had done for him, as the Holy Child never abandons us, in our works, or in prison.

Seventh Day Prayer

Admirable Child of Atocha, incomparable are your wonders, guileless Child; I hail you and adore you. I praise you and offer these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be, all of them joined to this seventh appeal in memory of that seventh journey that you made to the holy city of Jerusalem in the most pure womb of your beloved Mother as your palace and dwelling-place. In the holy city, after your maturity, you worked the Mystery of the Redemption. You walked along those streets you had to trod from one tribunal to another, journeys so wicked in that you had to appear in those courtrooms<sup>20</sup>, in one of those houses be imprisoned, in one of the plazas be tormented with five thousand stripes<sup>21</sup>. In this consideration your eyes became well-springs of blessed tears as you passed Mount Calvary, where weeping increased copiously, for you knew that it was at that place where you must expiate on the scaffold of the Cross. For all those emotions that consume your heart of that moment, I beg you, most loveable Child of Atocha, that you hear my requests and remedy my needs so that I gather together the merits of which I now interject, the merits of which I remind you, and I join them to your innate merits so as to comply with you in the will of your heavenly Father. I humbly pray to you and hope that you will allow me the happy consolation concerning what I request, granting me a good outcome. I once again introduce the intercession of the angels, the Thrones on which you sit as on a throne of your glory and seated in your majesty. With all these merits I hope not to take leave of you empty-handed, and instead enjoy a happy death so as to go with you in company to the heavenly Jerusalem of glory. Amen.

EIGHTH DAY

Eight Appeal

Diverse miracles,
beloved little Child,
you make daily,
for anyone afflicted.

I beg you to grant me what I request
with mounting desire,
to obtain said miracle
that I kneel and beg of you today.

Eighth Miracle

In the year 1840, in the month of May, Doña Juliana Codina, a resident of Jerez<sup>22</sup>, found herself gravely ill with a pain in her ribs. As she could not find any cure for this grave illness, she prayed to the Holy Child of Atocha, who immediately sent her necessary relief and within a few days she was in good health again, saving her from a sure death, and in reward for this miracle, she went to the Holy Shrine of Plateros, stating what had occurred. She and her husband, Don Francisco Orozco, are giving daily thanks to the Holy Child of Atocha and also to his Mother. Anyone who has a problem or a sadness can pray to the Holy Child of Atocha, and all the problems shall be solved so that the person can lead a new and happy life in the company of the Holy Child. He is our celestial doctor who always watches over us to protect us and to help us in our problems and despairs. He is blessing us every minute, and every time we shall ask for his help he will indeed help us, as can be testified to from all the examples people have seen and heard.

Eighth Day Prayer

Child of Atocha full of wisdom, universal Protector of all human beings, universal aid of the destitute, Divine Doctor of whatever illness, most powerful Child, I greet you. I praise you on this eighth day and offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be, and I conjoin them with this eighth appeal for your eighth journey, made flesh in the most pure womb of your most amiable Mother, from that holy city of Jerusalem to arrive in Bethlehem<sup>23</sup>. There, your most loving father Señor Saint Joseph, having arrived seeking lodging among his neighbors, relatives, and acquaintances, and believing that difficulties were now over, found new hardships multiplied by being insulted at the doors of his kinsmen while seeking patronage for his most chaste spouse. They all reproached him to his face. O what powerful emotions he had in his heart, that just and chaste man, spouse of Mary, seeking along the streets for an inn in which to lodge the Empress of the Heavens, and they turn him away with harsh and insulting words, treating him like a lazy man and a vagabond, in humiliation and poverty!<sup>24</sup> What tears his eyes shed, especially when he saw the night fall, the snow coming soon, and the cold winds blowing. And not having found any lodging since it was four in the afternoon when he began to seek for it, he feared that the childbirth would come upon her in the plaza. Because of the memories of that day, I beg you to grant me what I request on account of those merits, and I accompany them with the choir of the Cherubim and the Seraphim, adorned by their perfect wisdom, and for whatever I hope for, most precious Child of Atocha, I pray for and expect a happy result. I am certain that I will not depart disconsolate. And I shall receive from you a happy death so as to continue to go with you to the Bethlehem of Glory. Amen.

NINTH DAY

Ninth and Final Appeal

O Child of Atocha
supreme Majesty
what a miracle you performed
from your great goodness for Calixto Aguirre

in his illness!
Have the same for me,
immense Beauty.
Remedy, little Child,
my need!

Ninth Miracle

In the month of March 1841, Calixto Aguirre found himself with a grave illness, in the city of Guanajuato<sup>25</sup>. It was such an incurable disease that the pains and sufferings were incomparable. He went to see Dr. Vicente Lopez, who after seeing such a rare disease, told him to take some prescribed medicines which they applied at that moment. Since his pain was growing worse, Calixto Aguirre decided to call upon the Holy Child of Atocha, promising him that if he were to cure him of his illness, he would say a nine day prayer in the honor of the Holy Child of Atocha, and he would also visit his sanctuary to show all the people of his mercy in granting petitions. After the doctor had applied the medicine, his condition grew worse, up to the time when he thought that he was going to die for sure as he started bleeding profusely. When he found himself in this predicament, he again prayed to the Holy Child of Atocha who in the next hours completely healed him. To make good his promise, he prayed to the Holy Child the nine day prayer and also visited the Child's shrine to thank him as he has cured and helped not only him but many other faithful persons who have come to him for help.

Ninth Day Prayer

Supreme Child of Atocha, in you I place my entire trust. Most benign Child, I greet you and praise you in this final day of your novena, and I offer you these three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys with a Glory Be. I present them with this final appeal, giving them to you in memory of the final journey you made hidden in the virginal womb of your beloved Mother from Bethlehem to that prepared and blest doorway to which you arrived at nine in the evening. And when the hour of this, your desired birth arrived, your Mother, Holy Mary, knelt down, hands folded upon her breast. And raising her eyes to heaven, raising her powers and her feelings, and all of them made divine, she gave you to the world as the divine Messiah of all generations. She adored you in the arms of Saint Michael the Archangel, and afterwards she received you unto herself so that the holy angels might adore you and assist you as guards at the sacred altar. Then seeing you shivering from the cold and pouting, she wrapped you in straw and clothing, she warmed you, gathering you to herself, gladdening you by nourishing you with the sweet milk from her virginal breasts. She placed you in the straw of the manger of animals, where you received the adoration of the brute beasts and the humble shepherds, giving to them the plentiful Sun of Justice, recognizing you as the true God. By the joy that your beautiful Mother Holy Mary of Atocha experienced by having given you birth without pain and remaining intact in her virginity, I ask you to grant me what I beg you in my petition. I hope not to depart disappointed, lacking the joy that your beloved father Señor Saint Joseph experienced when, after awakening from that sweet dream in which he saw you in the arms of the dawn gladdening the world, and by your beauty and splendor making that humble stable a miniature heaven. For this I remind you, I fervently pray to you and petition you to grant me a happy conclusion. And I add the intercession of the choir of Seraphim, who love you with burning love. For this I hope to attain a good result for my care, and to attain a happy death, so as to give you unending praise in the sheepfolds of the eternal dwelling, where I may sing your glory with the holy angels forever. Amen.

THE FOLLOWING PRAYERS ARE SAID EVERY DAY.

Proposal of the Request Prayer

Most marvelous Child of Atocha my Good, Loveliness unequalled in heaven, Enchantment of hearts, my sweet Creator, single Master of my soul, most merciful Jesus of my life, incomparable happiness of every creature, O most generous Child, who except you, divine Emmanuel? Who except you, most loving Child? You who are the stream of blessings, you who are the Father of mercy and our entire life in this life, to whom except you, who are the endless, the infinite, the only True God? You are our Father, our Redeemer, our Preserver, and all that we are. The angels adore you, all creatures on earth praise you; the plants, the flowers, and everything that exists magnifies you, all the birds are happy to hear your sweet Name. Most patient Child, you know the needs I have and the afflictions that encompass me, since nothing is hidden from your divine sight. To you, most powerful Child, I present my woes, my painful labors, trusting that you will receive them benignly, granting me what I request in this petition, since you are the luxuriant tree, for whoever dwells in your shade will live with you in happiness. You are the One who converts the wrath of your Father into sweet mercies. You are the Mediator between your Father and all humans. You lavish each day, each hour, each instant with so many blessings, so many benefits, that we are unable to cooperate with them as we ought. But now, prostrate before you, I implore and hope in your clemency, for you are the Author of our life to whom we owe our entire existence, you are omnipotent and are seated on the throne of wisdom, from which throne of power you deigned to create the Sacrament of Penance so that with it we will purify our souls and turn to your infinite friendship and grace. I offer you these prayers so that you might present them to your Eternal Father, and through them the holy souls in Purgatory might obtain rest and we - all of us in need - might gain counsel and become worthy to obtain through you, Child of Atocha, the things we desire, granting us at the same time a true contrition and repentance from our faults so as to come to see you in heaven. We hope this from your mercy, being always in your presence until the end of all the ages, and in the day of judgment we hope to see you so that we may go to you and enjoy you in the eternal happiness of heaven. Amen.

Prayer in Honor of Sacred Mary of Atocha

Most pure Mother of the Holy Child of Atocha, most exquisite throne of the uncreated Majesty, fruitful Lily of the valleys, heavenly Rose of Jericho, most pure reliquary of the Most Holy Trinity, Fountain most clear where the crystalline waters always resemble divine grace, most delightful Paradise, supreme Garden of glory, fruitful Honeycomb of the most sweet and mellow honey<sup>26</sup>, supreme Physician for whoever lives in God on the entire globe of the earth, beloved Daughter of the Eternal Father in whom he rejoices and is full of delight, most loveable Spouse of the Holy Spirit, Dawn that delights the whole world, universal Advocate, and most trustworthy Hope of sinners! My Mother, I offer you these nine Hail Marys in remembrance of those nine journeys you made from Nazareth to Bethlehem where you gave birth to the true God, who is my hope, and I remind you of them that you might intercede with your Son the Holy Child of Atocha. May he give me what I ask in this devotion, and I hope that he will grant it, my most merciful Mother, favoring me who is joined by your intercession. You know well the need with which I ask you, and I believe with certitude that I will attain what I wish and request, granting me beforehand or at the conclusion of this novena that I dedicate to your name, the desire and the happy counsel for my travails and anxieties. Thus I hope and have confidence that, through those three necessities you had<sup>27</sup>, seeing him nailed to the cross as you stood vigil, and more so for those sentiments and sweet expressions by which you spoke to him in his heart when you took him in your arms after his deposition. Ask my grace from your beloved Son, the Holy Child of Atocha, who comes to my help each day with all the merits I have and helps me with his holy power, for he can do all things. On him depends my request, so that after granting me what I now wish, may he grant me a happy death so that I can pass into blessedness in company with you, and sing unceasingly the hymns of praise with the angelic choirs who, at his happy birth, sang to him, "Glory to God in the highest, and peace to men of good will," forever and ever. Amen.
